Forward-Looking Statements; Non-GAAP Financial Measures

The following information is current as of June 30, 2022 (unless otherwise noted) and should be read in connection with Navient Corporation's "Navient" Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year end December 31, 2021 (the "2021 Form 10-K"), filed by Navient with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the "SEC") on February 25, 2022 and subsequent reports filed by Navient with the SEC. Definitions for capitalized terms in this presentation not defined herein can be found in the 2021 Form 10-K. This presentation contains "forward-looking statements," within the meaning of the federal securities law, about our business, and prospects and other information that is based on management's current expectations as of the date of this presentation. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about the company's beliefs, opinions or expectations and statements that assume or are dependent upon future events, are forward-looking statements and often contain words such as "expect," "anticipate," "intend," "plan," "believe," "seek," "see," "will," "would," "may," "could," "should," "goal," or "target." Forward-looking statements are subject to risks, uncertainties, assumptions and other factors that may cause actual results to be materially different from those reflected in such forward-looking statements.

For Navient, these factors include, among others, the risks and uncertainties associated with:

- the continuing impact of the COVID-19 pandemic, including changes in the macroeconomic environment, restrictions on business, individual or travel activities intended to slow the spread of the pandemic and volatility in market conditions resulting from the pandemic including interest rates;
- the value of equities and other financial assets; the risks and uncertainties associated with increases in financing costs;
- the availability of financing or limits on our liquidity resulting from disruptions in the capital markets or other factors;
- unanticipated increases in costs associated with compliance with federal, state or local laws and regulations;
- changes in the demand for asset management and business processing solutions or other changes in marketplaces in which we compete (including increased competition);
- changes in accounting standards including but not limited to changes pertaining to loan loss reserves and estimates or other accounting standards that may impact our operations;
- adverse outcomes in any significant litigation to which the company is a party;
- credit risk associated with the company's underwriting standards or exposure to third parties, including counterparties to hedging transactions; and
- changes in the terms of education loans and the educational credit marketplace (including changes resulting from the CARES Act or other new laws and the implementation of existing laws).

The company could also be affected by, among other things:

- unanticipated repayment trends on education loans including prepayments or deferrals resulting from new interpretations of current laws, rules or regulations or future laws, executive orders or other policy initiatives which operate to encourage or require consolidation, abolish existing or create additional income-based repayment or debt forgiveness programs or establish other policies and programs which may increase the prepayment rates on education loans and accelerate repayment of the bonds in our securitization trusts;
- reductions to our credit ratings, the credit ratings of asset-backed securitizations we sponsor or the credit ratings of the United States of America;
- failures of our operating systems or infrastructure or those of third-party vendors;
- risks related to cybersecurity including the potential disruption of our systems or those of our third-party vendors or customers or potential disclosure of confidential customer information;
- damage to our reputation resulting from cyber-breaches or litigation;
- failure to successfully implement cost-cutting initiatives and adverse effects of such initiatives on our business;
- failure to adequately integrate acquisitions or realize anticipated benefits from acquisitions including delays or errors in converting portfolio acquisitions to our servicing platform;
- changes in law and regulations whether new laws or regulations or new interpretations of existing laws and regulations applicable to any of our businesses or activities or those of our vendors, suppliers or customers:
- changes in the general interest rate environment, including the availability of any relevant money-market index rate, including LIBOR, or the relationship between the relevant money-market index rate and the rate at which our assets are priced;
- our ability to successfully effectuate any acquisitions and other strategic initiatives;
- activities by shareholder activists, including a proxy contest or any unsolicited takeover proposal;
- changes in general economic conditions, including the potential impact of persistent inflation; and
- the other factors that are described in the "Risk Factors" section of Navient's Annual Report on Form 10-K for the year ended December 31, 2021, and in our other reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.

The preparation of the company's consolidated financial statements also requires management to make certain estimates and assumptions including estimates and assumptions about future events. These estimates or assumptions may prove to be incorrect and actual results could differ materially. All forward-looking statements contained in this release are qualified by these cautionary statements and are made only as of the date of this release. The company does not undertake any obligation to update or revise these forward-looking statements except as required by law.

Navient reports financial results on a GAAP basis and also provides certain non-GAAP performance measures, including Core Earnings, Adjusted Tangible Equity Ratio, and various other non-GAAP financial measures derived from Core Earnings. When compared to GAAP results, Core Earnings exclude the impact of: (1) mark-to-market gains/losses on derivatives; and (2) goodwill and acquired intangible asset amortization and impairment. Navient provides Core Earnings measures because this is what management uses when making management decisions regarding Navient's performance and the allocation of corporate resources. Navient Core Earnings are not defined terms within GAAP and may not be comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies. For additional information, see Core Earnings in Navient's second quarter earnings release and pages 17-19 of this presentation for a further discussion and a complete reconciliation between GAAP net income and Core Earnings.

Federal Student Loan Forgiveness

- On August 24th, the Biden Administration and the U.S. Department of Education ("ED") announced a three-part plan* to provide student debt relief to student loan borrowers. The plan continues to evolve since the announcement. Currently, final details have not been released and the plan remains a work in progress at ED. Multiple lawsuits have been filed against the plan.
- · According to FSA.gov:
  - Eligible loans: Only Federal Direct Loans and Federal Family Education Loan Program Loans ("FFELP") loans held by ED.
    - Federal Direct Loans created by the Student Loan Reform Act of 1993 represents 100% of all federal loan originations since FFELP was terminated in 2010. Federal Direct Loans are funded directly by the government.
    - FFELP created in 1965 and terminated in 2010, a public-private partnership program.
  - Ineligible loans: Commercially-held FFELP and private education loan.
- The three broad themes of the Administration's proposal are as follows:
  - Loan Forgiveness
    - Before 2023, ED will release the application form for borrowers to complete to benefit from the program
    - Eligible borrowers will be eligible to have up to $10,000 of student loans forgiven if their income falls below the threshold level ($125K for single and $250K for married)
    - · Borrowers with Pell Grants may have up to $20,000 of student loans forgiven, subject to same income threshold
  - Final extension of loan repayment pause (CARES Act)
    - The Administration will extend the pause in payments initially instituted as part of the government's COVID relief response a final time through December 31, 2022, with payments resuming in January 2023
  - Further expansion to income-based repayment program
    - Require borrowers to pay no more than 5% (down from current 10%) of their discretionary income monthly on undergraduate loans
    - · Raise the amount of income that is considered non-discretionary income and therefore is protected from repayment
    - Forgive loans after 10 years of payments (down from current 20) for borrowers with loan balances of $12,000 or less
    - Cover the borrower's unpaid monthly interest, so that unlike existing income-driven repayment plans, no borrower's loan balance will grow (government will subsidize)

Notes on Non-GAAP Financial Measures

(Dollars in Millions)

In addition to financial results reported on a GAAP basis, Navient also provides certain performance measures which are non-GAAP financial measures. The following non-GAAP financial measures are presented within this Presentation:

- 1. Core Earnings The difference between the company's Core Earnings and its GAAP results is that Core Earnings excludes the impacts of: (1) mark-to-market gains/losses on derivatives and (2) goodwill and acquired intangible asset amortization and impairment. Management uses Core Earnings in making decisions regarding the company's performance and the allocation of corporate resources and, as a result, our segment results are presented using Core Earnings. In addition, Navient's equity investors, credit rating agencies and debt capital investors use these Core Earnings measures to monitor the company's business performance. For further detail and reconciliation, see page 39 of this presentation and pages 18 28 of Navient's second quarter 2022 earnings release.
- 2. Core Earnings Return on Equity (CEROE) Core Earnings Return on Equity is calculated as Adjusted Core Net income, excluding restructuring and regulatory-related expenses, divided by the quarterly average of GAAP equity for the trailing four quarters. This measure allows management, as well as investors and analysts, to measure the company's use of its equity. The calculation for Q2 2022 is as follows:

3. Core Earnings Efficiency Ratio – The Core Earnings Efficiency Ratio measures the company's Core Earnings Expenses, which excludes restructuring and regulatory-related expenses, relative to its Adjusted Core Earnings Revenue. This ratio can be calculated by dividing Core Earnings Expenses, excluding restructuring and regulatory-related expenses, by Adjusted Core Earnings Revenue. Adjusted Core Earnings Revenue is derived by adding provision for loan losses, and excluding gains or loss on debt repurchases, to Total Core Earnings Revenue. This is a useful measure to management as we plan and forecast, as it removes variables that cannot be easily predicted in advance. By using this measure, management can make better short-term and long-term decisions related to expense management and allocation. The calculations for Q2 2022 is as follows:

<sup>1</sup> Excludes $2 million and $6 million of net restructuring and regulatory-related expenses in the second quarter and year to date 2022, respectively.

Notes on Non-GAAP Financial Measures

(Dollars in Millions)

- 4. Earnings before Interest, Taxes, Depreciation and Amortization Expense ("EBITDA") This metric measures the operating performance of the Business Processing segment and is used by management and our equity investors to monitor operating performance and determine the value of those businesses. For further detail and reconciliation, see page 28 of Navient's second quarter 2022 earnings release.
- 5. Adjusted Tangible Equity Ratio (ATE) The Adjusted Tangible Equity Ratio measures Navient's tangible equity, relative to its tangible assets. We adjust this ratio to exclude the assets and equity associated with our FFELP portfolio because FFELP Loans are no longer originated and the FFELP portfolio bears a 3% maximum loss exposure under the terms of the federal guaranty. Management believes that excluding this portfolio from the ratio enhances its usefulness to investors. To determine Adjusted Tangible Equity Ratios, we calculate the Adjusted Tangible Equity, (GAAP Total Equity less Goodwill & Acquired Intangible Assets less Equity held for FFELP Loans), and divide by Adjusted Tangible Assets (Total Assets less Goodwill & Acquired Intangible Assets less FFELP Loans). For further detail and reconciliation, see page 28 of Navient's second guarter 2022 earnings release.
